

Choose Rheumatology Scholarship - Underrepresented in Medicine

The mission of the Rheumatology Research Foundation is to advance research and training to improve the health of people with rheumatic diseases.

A joint goal of the Rheumatology Research Foundation and the American College of Rheumatology is to increase diverse representation of professionals choosing rheumatology as a career path and better reflecting their representation in the population and the communities in which they will serve. The purpose of this scholarship is to increase the number of individuals from backgrounds underrepresented in medicine (URiM) choosing rheumatology, including but not limited to those defined as URiM by the Association of American Medical Colleges.

Recipients of the scholarship will have the ability to attend ACR Convergence 2023, the world's premier rheumatology experience. Participation at this meeting will introduce recipients to the specialty of rheumatology and rheumatology-related health care in order to better serve patients with rheumatic and musculoskeletal diseases. Awardees will be invited to attend several invite-only networking and learning opportunities with other students and residents as well as leaders in the rheumatology community. This includes:

- Invitation to the Foundation's award recipient's luncheon.
- Attendance at an exclusive half-day Choose Rheumatology event (see below).
- Exclusive opportunities to network with ACR leadership and URiM rheumatology professionals.
- Invitation to the Fellows-in-Training (FIT) program.

Award Amount: $2,000 for travel expenses (including airfare, hotel, ground transportation and meals), complimentary registration to ACR Convergence 2023, plus a one-year ACR/ARP Membership.

Additional Event Details:

ACR Convergence (November 10 – 15, 2023 in San Diego, CA)

The meeting features the latest innovations, science, clinical and business best practices in rheumatology. You will get first-hand access to the latest discoveries and research transforming rheumatic disease care, as well as clinical applications that will improve the health of patients. It is an opportunity to experience personalized learning and networking that allows you to expand your knowledge to new areas of interest and focus in rheumatology.

Choose Rheumatology Experience

The event will take place during ACR Convergence and involves a breakfast and introductory educational session followed by an opportunity for students and residents to network with rheumatology fellows-in-training, subject matter experts, and other rheumatology professionals. Additional details will be provided at a later time.

All applications must be submitted by 5:00 PM ET on August 1, 2023 through Proposal Central.

If you have any questions about your eligibility or submitting your application, please contact Award & Grants staff at 404-365-1373 or Foundation@rheumatology.org.

Guidelines

Eligibility

- All award recipients must abide by Foundation Awards and Grants Policies at all times.
- The applicant must be a currently enrolled graduate student; medical student; or internal medicine, pediatric, or combined medicine/pediatrics resident at a U.S. institution.
- The applicant exhibits a personal commitment to furthering the goal of increasing diverse representation of professionals choosing to pursue rheumatology as a career path.

Award Terms and Funding

This is a one-time award including the following:

- $2,000 stipend for travel expenses (including air fare, hotel, ground transportation and meals) to attend ACR
  Convergence 2023
  - Note: Awardees are paid a stipend in advance of the meeting and are required to provide original receipts for all travel expenses. Travel funds not used toward travel to ACR Convergence may be considered taxable income.
- Complimentary registration to ACR Convergence 2023
- One-year ACR/ARP membership
- Invitation to attend exclusive networking events onsite at Convergence 2023

Partial funding of this award is provided by the American College of Rheumatology.

Application Instructions

Before starting the online application, you will be required to create a Professional Profile in ProposalCentral, if you have not already. To do so, visit this link to begin creating your account.

All files must be saved as a PDF. Documents that do not have a required template should be formatted with ½ inch margin, 11-point Arial Font, and single-spacing (does not apply to figures and tables). All applications and documents must be written in English and avoid use of jargon or abbreviations. If terms are not universally known, spell out the term the first time it is used and note the appropriate abbreviation in parentheses. The acronym may be used thereafter.

Note: The Foundation does not require an official signature from an authorized institutional research office at the time of application. However, many institutions require an application to be reviewed prior to submission. Please check with your research office for your institution's requirements.

Applicant Information

You will be asked to confirm your eligibility and provide contact information in this section. In addition to the applicant information requested, you will be asked to upload the following documents:

Student/Resident Resume, CV, or Biosketch

Limit to 5 pages.

Statement of Need

Limit to 1 page.

- Statement of commitment to furthering the goal of increasing diverse representation of professionals choosing to pursue rheumatology as a career path.
- Description of applicant's current career plans and interest in rheumatology, including why this award is needed.

Letter of Recommendation

Limit to 1 page.

• Letter of recommendation from a faculty member from the applicant's institution confirming their enrollment at the institution and availability to attend ACR Convergence, as well as the Choose Rheumatology Experience.

Choose Rheumatology Lifetime of Care,

Discovery and Work-life Balance Choose Rheumatology online!

